Mission Statement

Our degree programs require students actively to engage with world cultures—both ancient and modern—primarily through the rigorous study of language, which empowers our students to contemplate these cultures with unique insight by progressing beyond a reliance on English descriptions and equivalencies. Students of modern languages hone their linguistic skills by speaking, reading, writing, and listening to the target language; in upper-level classes they apply these linguistic skills to analyzing literature and culture. Students of Greek and Latin focus on reading and interpreting ancient literature, supporting this reading with the study of ancient social history and material culture. All students have opportunities to study abroad as part of their coursework. They also conduct research and develop their capacity for critical thinking, public speaking, and polished writing—the essential tools for professional success in any field. Upon completing our curriculum, students have acquired a more global perspective by deepening their understanding of one or more non-U.S. cultures.

The Program

The Department of Modern and Classical Languages and Literatures offers courses and programs that are designed to teach students to understand a foreign language; to develop skills in speaking, reading, and writing as appropriate; and to promote understanding and appreciation of foreign cultures and literatures. The department also helps students to prepare for advanced graduate and professional degrees, the teaching professions, the domestic and international business world, government work, social work, careers in science and medicine, and work in and relating to the fine and performing arts. Thus, modern and classical languages and literatures are both an integral part of the liberal arts program and of many different career-oriented programs at the University. The department offers the Bachelor of Arts with majors in classical studies, French, German, Latin and Spanish, and minor programs in Asian studies, classical studies, Greek studies, international culture and business, Latin American studies, middle eastern and north African studies, French, German, Latin and Spanish.

Foreign Language Placement Recommendations

General Language Policies

1. Students who demonstrate proficiency at one level may not take a lower-level course for credit without the permission of the Department.
2. Native speakers of languages other than English may not receive credits for 100-level courses or 300-level conversation courses in the native language.

Second Language Literacy Requirement

All CNU students must successfully complete one course (three credits) in a modern or classical language at the 200 level or higher, or the equivalent, in order to graduate.

Satisfying the Second Language Literacy Requirement

Students are strongly encouraged to complete the requirement during the freshman or sophomore year. The requirement may be satisfied in one of several ways:

1. Completion of a three-credit 200-level course or higher at CNU (see below for placement recommendations);
2. Receipt of transfer credits for a three-credit 200-level course or higher in a second language from an accredited institution;
3. Three credits earned in a second language at the 200-level or above through the Advanced Placement Exam or International Baccalaureate exams;
4. Receipt of an A or AS on the Cambridge Advanced Standing Exams in a second language (no credit will be awarded).

Exemptions from the Second Language Literacy Requirement

Native speakers of languages other than English and students who completed three or more years of high school instruction in a language not taught at CNU may be exempted from the requirement by providing documentation for one of the following (no credit will be awarded):

1. Completion of a secondary program of instruction in a language other than English; the language of instruction must be specified in the documentation;
2. Successful completion of a 200-level waiver exam administered by the Department of Modern and Classical Languages and Literatures for native speakers of languages offered at CNU;
3. A score of Intermediate-Low or higher on the Oral Proficiency Interview in the target language administered by Language Testing International for native speakers of languages that are not offered at CNU and students who completed three or more years of high school instruction in a language not taught at CNU; testing costs are to be paid by the student.

4. A score of 3 or higher on the ASLPI administered by Gallaudet University for students who completed three or more years of high school instruction in American Sign Language; testing costs are paid by the student.

If you meet one of these four criteria, you should contact the Chair of the Department of Modern and Classical Languages and Literatures (MCM 105) as soon as possible, but no later than the semester prior to graduation.

Placement Recommendations
These recommendations are based on years of high school (9th-12th grade) experience with grades of C- or higher.

- 1 year: take 101, 102 and 200 (satisfy requirement only) or 201 (majors and minors) in sequential order
- 2 years: take 102 and 200 (satisfy requirement only) or 201 (majors and minors) in sequential order
- 3 years: take either 200 (satisfy requirement only) or 201 (majors and minors)
- 4 years: take any course numbered 301-308

Students are strongly encouraged to complete the requirement during the freshman or sophomore year. Students who have not studied their second language for two or more years should consult with the MCLL Chair regarding appropriate placement.

The Bachelor of Arts degree in Foreign Languages and Literatures
The Bachelor of Arts degree in foreign languages and literatures may be taken with a major in classical studies, French, German, or Spanish.

Graduation Requirements
In order to graduate, an MCLL student must have successfully completed all requirements listed for his or her individual major with a grade of C- or higher, the liberal learning curriculum, and the exit examination in the major.

Native speakers of French, German, and Spanish who choose to major in their native language may not register for 300- or 400-level conversation courses but may substitute any other 300- or 400-level elective course to complete the required number of hours for the B.A. in foreign languages and literatures.

No student may present more than twelve hours of topics credit or six hours of independent study credit toward the major program.
1. Select four courses (12 credits) in LATN at the 200-level or above;
2. Select two electives (6 credits) from the following: CLST 212, 272, 302, 312, 415; HIST 302, 303; any LATN at the 300-level or higher.

The Bachelor of Arts degree in Foreign Languages and Literatures

French Major
In addition to requiring successful completion of the liberal learning curriculum, the major in French requires successful completion, with no grades below C-, of:

Modern Languages Core:
1. Select one: MLAN 203, 205, 206, or 207;
2. MLAN 310W and 490W.

Major and Elective Studies:
3. Select two: FREN 301, 303, 314;
4. Select FREN 302 or 308 (except native speakers who choose a 300-400 level FREN elective);
5. FREN 310, 351 and 352;
6. Select one (3 credits): FREN 390, 353, 354;
7. Select 6 credits from MLAN 308 or FREN courses at the 300-level or higher that have not been used to satisfy one of the above requirements.

Students interested in pursuing an M.A.T. in French or other graduate study are strongly advised to take an additional foreign language through the 202 level.

The Minor in French (21 credits)
The minor program in French consists of the following courses, with no grades below C-:
1. Select two courses (6 credits) in FREN at the 200-level or above;
2. Select four courses (12 credits) in FREN at the 300-level or above;
3. Select MLAN 308 or an additional FREN course at the 300-level or above.

No specific French courses are required for the minor in French.

The Bachelor of Arts degree in Foreign Languages and Literatures

German Major
In addition to requiring successful completion of the liberal learning curriculum, the major in German requires successful completion, with no grades below C-, of:

Modern Languages Core:
1. Select one: MLAN 203, 205, 206, or 207;
2. MLAN 310W and 490W.

Major and Elective Studies:
3. Select two: SPAN 301, 303, 314;
4. Select SPAN 302, or 308 (except native speakers who choose a 300-400 level SPAN elective);
5. SPAN 351, 352, 353, 354;
6. Select one (3 credits): SPAN 471, 472, 473;
7. Select 9 credits from MLAN 308 or any SPAN courses at the 300 level or higher that have not been used to satisfy one of the above requirements.

Students interested in pursuing an MAT in Spanish or other graduate study are strongly advised to take an additional foreign language through the 202 level and multiple SPAN courses at the 400-level.

The Minor in Spanish (21 credits)
The minor program in Spanish consists of the following courses, with no grades below C-:
1. Select two courses (6 credits) in SPAN at the 200-level or above;
2. Select four courses (12 credits) in SPAN at the 300-level or above;
3. Select MLAN 308 or an additional SPAN course at the 300-level or above.

No specific Spanish courses are required for the minor in Spanish.

Teacher Preparation Programs

Teacher Preparation in Spanish

Those students who wish to become teachers should apply to the five-year Master of Arts in Teaching (M.A.T.) program. Application to the program must be made in spring of the junior year. See the Graduate Catalog for application instructions and requirements. Students will earn a B.A. in Foreign Languages and Literatures, Spanish major after the first four years and then complete an additional year of study leading to an M.A.T. degree. Students majoring in Spanish or other classical or modern languages and literatures can prepare to teach elementary school, pre-kindergarten through grade six, all core subjects, or elementary through secondary school, grades pre-kindergarten through 12, in the content area of Spanish. The courses and degree requirements for the M.A.T. are found in the graduate catalog. Students accepted into this program must complete one of the following tracks for graduation with the bachelor’s degree:

Elementary level (PK-6) Track

Major / concentration courses required:

See requirements for the B.A. in Foreign Languages and Literatures.

Support courses required:
- ENGL 123, 223, 310 or 430, and 316;
- COMM 201 or THEA 230;
- CPSC 110;
- MATH 109, 125;
- HIST 111, 121, 122;
- POLS 101;
- GEOG 210;
- PSYC 208, 312;
- SOCL 314/314L;
- BIOL 107 or 108; CHEM 103; PHYS 141; PHYS 105L or BIOL 109L;
- NSCI 310.

* Support courses may change based on regulations from the Virginia Department of Education.

Graduate courses* required (senior year):
Select two: MLAN 511, MLAN 570; PSYC/TCHG 544.

* See the graduate catalog for course descriptions.

Teacher Preparation in English as a Second Language (ESL)

Those students who wish to become licensed teachers of ESL should apply to the five-year Master of Arts in Teaching program. Students will earn a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree during the first four years and then take an additional year of studies leading to an M.A.T. degree. Students completing this program are licensed to teach pre-kindergarten through grade 12. Application to the program must be made in spring of the junior year. See the Graduate Catalog for application instructions and requirements.

Major courses required:
Any B.A. or B.S. degree in a liberal arts or science major is acceptable for this program, but the B.A. in English is recommended.

Support courses required:
- MATH 125; COMM 201 or THEA 230; CPSC 110;
- PSYC 207 or 208 and 312; SOCL 314/314L; ENGL 123, 223, 310 and 430; SOCL 330 or MLAN 308; MLAN 311; LANG through 202 (Spanish recommended).

Graduate courses* required (senior year):
Select two: MLAN 570, PSYC 521 or PSYC 535.

* See the graduate catalog for course descriptions.

THE CURRICULUM IN ARABIC

ARAB 101. Beginning Arabic I (3-3-0)

This course is designed to introduce students to the Modern Standard Arabic (MSA) Language and cultures of the Arabic-speaking world. The course is a combination of lecture, discussion, exercises and communicative language activities.

ARAB 102. Beginning Arabic II (3-3-0)

*Recommended prerequisite: ARAB 101, or two years of high school Arabic, or consent of instructor. Students with three or more years of high school Arabic are encouraged to take ARAB 201.

ARAB 102 is a continuation of ARAB 101. This course is designed to continue to introduce students to the Modern Standard Arabic (MSA) Language and cultures of the Arabic-speaking world. The course is a combination of lecture, discussion, exercises and communicative language activities.

ARAB 201. Intermediate Arabic I (3-3-0)

*Recommended prerequisite: ARAB 102, or three years of high school Arabic, or consent of instructor.
ARAB 201 will focus on the mastery of grammar, including more complex structures, acquisition and expansion of vocabulary, and the development of reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills. These objectives are achieved through intensive oral/aural practice using audio and video materials.

ARAB 202. Intermediate Arabic II (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite: ARAB 201, or three years of high school Arabic, or consent of instructor.
Intermediate Arabic II will focus on the mastery of grammar, including more complex structures, acquisition and expansion of vocabulary, and the development of reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills. These objectives are achieved through intensive oral/aural practice using audio and video materials.

THE CURRICULUM IN CHINESE

CHIN 101. Beginning Chinese I (3-3-0)
As an introduction to Mandarin Chinese for non-native speakers, this course focuses above all on the fundamental language skills of oral expression and listening comprehension. Following presentation of the sounds of Mandarin and of the Pīnyīn system of Romanization, students will work to acquire a vocabulary of some 1000 common words and expressions, a knowledge of the basic grammatical rules and patterns of Mandarin, and a familiarity with pertinent aspects of Chinese culture. Given this communicative emphasis, instruction in the Chinese script is deferred to Chinese 102.

CHIN 102. Beginning Chinese II (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite: CHIN 101, or two years of high school Chinese, or consent of instructor. Students with three or more years of high school Chinese are encouraged to take CHIN 201.
Focus in this course continues to be upon spoken communication in Mandarin Chinese. Chinese 102 supplements continued study of essential vocabulary and syntax with an introduction to the Chinese writing system, with emphasis upon the readily acquired skill of reading comprehension rather than upon rote reproduction of individual characters. By completion of the 101/102 sequence, students can expect to have gained a basic competence in spoken Mandarin, the ability to read and comprehend elementary texts, and an acquaintance with a range of relevant cultural phenomena.

CHIN 201. Intermediate Chinese I (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite: CHIN 102, or three years of high school Chinese, or consent of instructor.
CHIN 201 is for those students who wish to continue to learn Mandarin Chinese at the intermediate level.

CHIN 202. Intermediate Chinese II (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite: CHIN 201, or three years of high school CHIN, or consent of instructor.
CHIN 202 is for those students who wish to continue their study of intermediate Mandarin Chinese.

CHIN 302. Chinese Conversation and Comprehension (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite: CHIN 202, or four or more years of high school CHIN, or consent of instructor.
CHIN 302 is a course in conversational Mandarin Chinese. Instructional focus is on the skills of Mandarin listening and speaking as well as communicative competence in real-world conversational interactions and situations. The class is organized into twelve week-long units that focus upon a particular topic pertaining to Chinese society and culture. Taught in Chinese. This course is repeatable once for a total of six credits.

CHIN 314. Business Chinese (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite: CHIN 202, or four or more years of high school CHIN, or consent of instructor.
CHIN 314 is an introduction to Mandarin Chinese as employed in the business environment. Instruction incorporates speaking, listening, reading and writing, with focus on communicative competence in real-world business situations. Taught in Chinese.

THE CURRICULUM IN CLASSICAL STUDIES

The following courses do not require knowledge of Latin or Greek and are conducted entirely in English.

CLST 101. Classical Roots of American Culture (3-3-0) AIWT
In this course, students will consider the impact of classical literature, art, and architecture on American culture from Colonial times to the Antebellum Era.

CLST 103. The Ancient World in Film (3-3-0) AICE [Formerly CLST 307, not equivalent]
This course explores ways in which modern cinema (mis)appropriates the ancient world, especially Greece and Rome. Topics vary by instructor.

CLST 195. Special Topics (3-3-0)
Topics vary, determined by the special interests and needs of students and the expertise of faculty.

CLST 201. The Mythic Imagination (3-3-0) AIWT
This course provides a thorough introduction to the principal myths of classical antiquity. Students will analyze the significance of ancient myth from a variety of interpretive perspectives and consider the influence of Greco-Roman culture upon western civilization as a whole, paying particular attention to the use of mythic themes in later art, literature, and cinema.
CLST 211. Ancient Athens (3-3-0) AIWT
This course examines ancient Greek culture, specifically in the fifth-century Athenian democracy, primarily through the analysis of literature, art and architecture. Students will also explore the legacy of ancient Greece in the western world.

CLST 212. Roman Culture (3-3-0) AIWT
This course examines ancient Roman culture primarily through the analysis of literature, art and architecture. Students will also explore the legacy of ancient Rome in the western world.

CLST 271. Creative Expressions in Ancient Greece (3-3-0) AICE
This study abroad course examines the culture of ancient Greece. Activities include lectures and site and museum tours. This course is repeatable for credit.

CLST 272. The Roman Empire: Architecture and Ideology (3-3-0) AICE
This study abroad course offers students an introduction to ancient Roman architecture in its original cultural context.

CLST 295. Special Topics (3-3-0)
Topics vary, determined by the special interests and needs of students and the expertise of faculty.

CLST 301. Ancient Greek and Roman Theater (3-3-0) AIWT
Prerequisite: ENGL 223.
This course focuses on the interpretation and analysis of ancient Greek and Roman dramas in their original cultural and performative contexts. Students will also explore the legacy of ancient drama in the western world.

CLST 302. Ancient Epic (3-3-0) AIWT
[Formerly CLST 202, not equivalent]
Prerequisite: ENGL 223.
In this course, students will read Homer’s Iliad and Odyssey and Vergil’s Aeneid in their entirety; for each poem, students will consider the literary and historical background, cultural significance, and central themes.

CLST 311. Ancient Greek Art (3-3-0) AICE
Prerequisite: ENGL 223.
The course will examine the art and architecture produced in Greece and the Greek world from the Early Bronze Age (beginning ca. 3000 B.C.) through the Hellenistic Period, paying special attention to the major developments in ceramics, sculpture, architecture, and ‘minor’ arts that shaped what we now call ancient Greek civilization.

CLST 312. Ancient Roman Art (3-3-0) AICE
Prerequisite: ENGL 223.
The course will examine the art and architecture produced in Italy and the Roman world from the Iron Age (beginning ca. 900 B.C.) to the fifth century A.D., paying special attention to the major developments in ceramics, sculpture, architecture, and ‘minor’ arts that shaped what we now call ancient Roman civilization.

CLST 313. Sex and Gender in Ancient Greece and Rome (3-3-0) AIWT
Prerequisite: ENGL 223.
This course will introduce students to the world of Greek and Roman women. Students will examine literary representations of women – their goals and strategies, motives and choices, personal and social concerns – and evaluate their experiences within the context of the historical documents of antiquity and in the light of contemporary values. Topics for consideration include personal identity, social constructs, gender, sexuality, religion and politics.

CLST 395. Special Topics (3-3-0)
Prerequisite: As announced.
Topics vary, determined by the special interests and needs of students and the expertise of faculty. Although students may take this course multiple times, there is a maximum 12 topics credit hours that may be presented for graduation.

CLST 414. Dictators, Demagogues, and Decline (3-3-0) AIWT [Formerly CLST 314, equivalent]
Prerequisite: ENGL 223.
This course studies the persistent depiction of social decline in ancient Greek and Roman authors. Representative governments like the Roman republic and fifth-century Athens were exceedingly rare in the ancient world, and the authors in these societies regularly discussed the social and political dangers of their peculiar institutions in their writings. Students will compare their analyses, assess their validity, and consider the influence of their ideas upon our own society.

CLST 415. WI: Resisting Rome (3-3-0) AIGM [Formerly CLST 315, not equivalent]
Prerequisite: ENGL 223.
This course examines the numerous interactions between Rome, its neighbors and its own citizens, focusing primarily on areas of social and political friction. Evidence will include the literary, artistic, institutional, and architectural means by which Rome presented its own message, as well as the sophisticated methods employed by Rome’s internal and external opponents. Students also will study the impact of these opponents upon the literature and artistic legacy of the Roman world, and especially the Roman representations of groups they considered different from themselves.

CLST 490. WI: Capstone Course in Classical Studies (3-3-0)
Prerequisite: ENGL 223 with a grade of C- or higher. Prerequisite or Corequisite: CLST 101, 211, 212; one LATN or GREK course at the 200-level or above; and junior standing.
Required of all classical studies majors. The capstone experience in classical studies is a research-writing course in which students are expected to demonstrate their ability to read and interpret primary sources in the original Latin and/or Greek, synthesize and analyze sources in English, and write a well argued research paper in support of an original thesis. The objectives and format of the capstone course are consistent, but the specific research topic for each course will be determined by the instructor. This course partially satisfies the writing intensive requirement.

CLST 495. Special Topics (3-3-0)
Prerequisite: As announced.
Topics vary, determined by the special interests and needs of students and the expertise of faculty. Although students may take this course multiple times, there is a maximum of 12 topics credit hours that may be presented for graduation.

THE CURRICULUM IN FRENCH

FREN 101. Beginning French I (3-3-0)
Students with 3 or more years of high school French are encouraged to enroll in FREN 200.
Emphasis on the acquisition of practical vocabulary and mastery of grammatical structures through oral usage in the classroom. Reading and writing skills based on the same material are developed simultaneously.

FREN 102. Beginning French II (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite FREN 101, or 2 years of high school French, or consent of instructor. Students with 3 or more years of high school French are encouraged to enroll in FREN 200.
A continuation course that builds on the skills developed in FREN 101. Establishment of a basic foundation in the French language. Emphasis on the acquisition of practical vocabulary and mastery of grammatical structures through oral usage in the classroom. Reading and writing skills based on the same material are developed simultaneously.

FREN 195. Special Topics (3-3-0)
Topics vary, determined by the special interests and needs of students and the expertise of faculty.

FREN 200. Effective Communication in French (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite: FREN 102, or 3 years of high school French, or consent of instructor.
This course focuses on practical work in the four basic skills (speaking, listening, reading, and writing) of foreign language competency. It will review and build on students’ prior knowledge with the goal of developing their functional and communicative abilities. Readings, videos and other media will broaden students’ knowledge of French and Francophone cultures and strengthen their command of the language. Students who are interested in continuing their studies in French should take French 201 instead of French 200.

FREN 201. Intermediate French I (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite: FREN 102, or FREN 200, or 3 or more years of high school French, or consent of instructor.
A course designed to review the major grammatical structures of the language and to develop further the student’s ability to understand, speak, read, and write French. Students who are interested in continuing their studies in French should take French 201 instead of French 200.

FREN 202. Intermediate French II (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite: FREN 201, or FREN 200 with a grade of A- or better, or 3 or more years of high school French, or consent of instructor.
More advanced work in all skill areas of the language. Material equally divided between practical conversation and selected readings. Taught in French.

FREN 295. Special Topics (3-3-0)
Topics vary, determined by the special interests and needs of students and the expertise of faculty.

FREN 301. Grammar and Composition (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite: FREN 202, or 4 or more years of high school French, or consent of instructor.
Review of the major grammatical structures of the language and the main principles of syntax, composition, and translation. Special attention will be given to reading and writing via vocabulary building and short writing assignments, in order to prepare students for 300 level classes taught in French that focus on various academic disciplines. Taught in French.

FREN 302. Practical Conversation (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite: FREN 202, or 4 or more years of high school French, or consent of instructor.
Develop fluency in speaking French. Intensive oral-aural training via conversation, presentations and extemporaneous speaking. Not open to native speakers of French. Taught in French.

FREN 303. Reading and Writing Seminar in French (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite: FREN 202 or 4 or more years of high school French.
This course is designed to focus on writing as a process. Students will analyze models of specific styles of writing and use a variety of methods, including peer-editing, self-correction, and stylistic exercises, to improve the accuracy and the effectiveness of their writing in French. Study of grammatical points will be individualized and will arise as a by-product of the process of learning to write more effectively. Assignments will encompass a variety of styles, including descriptions, narrations, resumes, literary analysis (such as explication de texte), and journalistic and technical writing. Taught in French.

FREN 308. Conversation via Cinema (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite: FREN 202, or 4 or more years of high school French, or consent of instructor.
Use of recent French films to improve listening comprehension, writing and conversation skills. A required lab will consist of a second viewing of each film at the student’s convenience. Taught in French. Not open to native speakers of French.

FREN 310. Practical French Phonetics (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite: FREN 202, or 4 or more years of high school French, or consent of instructor.
Special emphasis will be given to inherent differences between how syllables are formed and sounds are articulated in English and French. Students will learn how every sound in the French language is pronounced via intensive practice and repetition. Students will learn to translate phonetic transcriptions into written French and vice versa. They will also learn, via extensive practice, how to transcribe native oral French into phonetic symbols. Taught in French.

FREN 314. Business French (3-3-0)
[Formerly FREN 305, equivalent]
Recommended prerequisite: FREN 202, or 4 or more years of high school French, or consent of instructor.
This course is designed to be a practical course that will enable students to further develop their language skills and help them function in a professional environment. Students will acquire specialized vocabulary of professions and grasp an understanding of the functioning of French companies, business practices and culture within the Francophone world. Students will also develop a professional dossier, including a CV and cover letter, and learn to write memos and correspondence. All students will also be required to conduct mock interviews. Readings will be supplemented by internet-based activities and realia from the business world. Taught in French.

FREN 351. Studies in the Early Modern Era (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite: FREN 202, or 4 or more years of high school French, or consent of instructor.
Selected readings from the Middle Ages, Renaissance, and 17th and 18th centuries will acquaint students with the major authors, works, themes and genres of the early modern period. Readings will be supplemented by other materials, including film, multi-media presentations, and video, in order to situate literary works in their cultural context. A variety of activities including group work, class presentations, and opinion and research papers will make critical thinking and the development of language skills an inherent focus of the course. Students will be tested on their mastery of the early modern literary canon throughout the semester but will also learn to conduct close readings of primary sources through the French method of explication de texte. This course may include a practicum and/or interdisciplinary component, especially for students intending to enter the teaching profession. Taught in French.

FREN 352. Studies in the Modern Era (3-3-0)
Recommended prerequisite: FREN 202, or 4 or more years of high school French, or consent of instructor.
Selected readings from the 19th and 20th centuries and beyond will acquaint students with the major authors, works, themes, and genres of the modern period. Literary texts will be supplemented by readings from other print materials, such as journals, periodicals, advertisements, and other authentic documents, as well as by film, video, and web sources, in order to situate literary works in their cultural context. A variety of activities including group work, class presentations, and opinion and research papers will make critical thinking and the development of language skills an inherent focus of the course. Taught in French.

FREN 353. Francophone Literature and Culture (3-3-0) AIGM
Recommended prerequisite: FREN 202, or 4 or more years of high school French, or consent of instructor.
This course introduces students to francophone literatures from around the world. Selected readings and analysis of poetry, prose, and theater of francophone expression is the basis of the course, and authors will be chosen from all the major francophone areas such as sub-Saharan Africa, the Maghreb (North Africa), central Africa, the Indian Ocean, the Caribbean, and Canada. Each offering of the course will give special focus to one of these francophone areas. The study of francophone literature will be situated in the cultural and historical context of its creation. Taught in French.

FREN 354. French Women Writers (3-3-0) AIWT
Recommended prerequisite: FREN 202, or 4 or more years of high school French, or consent of instructor.
This course offers an insight into the works of French (and Francophone) women writers from the Middle Ages to the present. The selections are organized around themes such as marriage, love, politics, and family and include various genres: novels, poems, stories, chronicles, autobiographical writings, letters, manifestoes, political and historical documents, and interviews. This course will address issues of stereotypes, social class, identity, freedom, rights and creativity while exploring the relations between authorship and gender within the social, cultural, and political context. Taught in French.

FREN 370. CNU Seminar Abroad. (3-3-0)
Prerequisite: FREN 202 or consent of instructor.
This course is structured around a cultural theme and taught on-site in a country where the instructor has academic expertise. Activities encompass lectures, guided tours of sites, attendance at performances, or other cultural events.
As in any three credit course, assignments may include readings, presentations, tests, journals, essays or a research project. Scheduled for two weeks in May or at another convenient time. THE CURRICULUM IN MODERN LANGUAGES

The Department of Modern and Classical Languages and Literatures offers the following courses conducted entirely in English.

MLAN 195. Special Topics (3-3-0)
Topics vary, determined by the special interests and needs of students and the expertise of faculty.

MLAN 203. International Folktales in English Translation (3-3-0) AICE
This course acquaints students with folktales from a variety of backgrounds, including European and Latin American countries. Lectures offer historical and critical background while emphasizing the literary and cultural traits of the countries where the tales were developed. Students will explore perspectives such as a relationship between storytellers and their audiences, the concept of children’s literature and its influence upon our understanding of childhood, and the ways in which folk- and literary tales continue to shape us and our perception of the world. No knowledge of another language is necessary.

MLAN 205. The Novel in English Translation (3-3-0) AIWT
This course acquaints the students with canonical novels and novellas in English translation united by a common theme. Lectures emphasize historical and critical perspectives, at the same time contrasting the literary and cultural traits of the nations represented in the literary works studied. No knowledge of another language is necessary.

MLAN 206. The Drama in English Translation (3-3-0) AIWT
This course acquaints students with canonical works of foreign drama in English translation united by a common theme. Lectures emphasize historical and critical perspectives, at the same time contrasting literary and cultural traits of the nations represented in the dramatic works studied. No knowledge of another language is necessary.

MLAN 207. International Cinema (3-3-0) AICE
This course examines international movies. Representative screenings may include films from Germany, Italy, Spain, Latin America, Francophone cultures or other countries. Through lectures and discussion, students will hone the skills necessary to read and critically analyze films in their cultural context. Films will be shown in the original language with English subtitles; no knowledge of another language is necessary, two hours of lecture and discussion and two hours of film screening per week. This course may be counted toward the film studies minor.

MLAN 220. Gender in the Arab World (3-3-0) AIGM
This course examines changing gender roles in the Arab world. The interdisciplinary readings, films, lectures and class discussions will broaden students’ understanding of gender issues and enable students to recognize the intersection of sexism with class, race, and ethnicity in the construction of women’s identities in Arab societies. Against the background of transnational feminist activism, students learn to critically analyze the obstacles to and opportunities for establishing Arab women’s rights as human rights.

Topics vary, determined by the special interests and needs of students and the expertise of faculty.

MLAN 308. Cross-Cultural Awareness (3-3-0) AIGM
Pre or Corequisite: ENGL 223.
This course builds cross-cultural awareness and develops students’ skills in communicating with peoples from other cultures by examining cultural patterns and cues that determine behavior in different parts of the world. Basic cultural principles, such as concepts of time, space, formality and informality and intimacy will be explored from a cross-cultural perspective, as different members of the Department of Modern and Classical Languages treat the application of these concepts within diverse cultural contexts. This course complements work done by French, German and Spanish majors and minors in their target language, although no knowledge of a foreign language is necessary.
MLAN 310. WI: Texts in Context (3-3-0) AICE
Pre or Corequisite: ENGL 223.
This course introduces students to methods of cultural analysis used by scholars in French studies, German studies, and Hispanic studies. Participants examine a variety of creative responses to selected intellectual movements (e.g., the Enlightenment, Romanticism). Material studied ranges from literary texts to works of visual culture, musical scores, architecture and monuments. Class discussions and supplementary readings introduce students to relevant theoretical approaches. The course complements work done by French, German, and Spanish majors in their target language, although no knowledge of a foreign language is necessary. This course partially satisfies the writing intensive requirement.

MLAN 311. Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) (3-3-0) [Formerly ENGL 311, equivalent]
Prerequisite: ENGL 223 or consent of instructor.
This course is an introductory survey of English language learners in the United States. Students will learn about the cognitive, affective, linguistic, and sociocultural processes involved in second language development. They will also gain knowledge of the effects of socio-cultural variables in community and instructional settings. A significant service component will place students in various settings such as schools, adult learning centers, and other community organizations to support English language learners in acquisition of language and cultural competencies.

MLAN 370. CNU Seminar Abroad (3-3-0)
Prerequisite: ENGL 123 or consent of instructor.
This course is structured around a cultural theme and taught on-site in a country where the instructor has academic experience. Activities encompass lectures, guided tours of sites, attendance at performances, and other cultural events. Assignments may include readings, presentations, tests, journals, essays or a research project. Scheduled for two weeks in May or at another convenient time. In addition to tuition, charges for travel, accommodations, and group activities will be published well in advance. Students in MLAN 370 need not speak a foreign language. Departmental application and appropriate University paperwork required.

MLAN 371. Africa: Myth and Reality Introduction to Contemporary Francophone African Culture and Society (3-3-0) AIGM
This course is an introduction to contemporary francophone African culture and society taught on site in Cameroon and Senegal. Located in central Africa, both countries represent several cultural regions and cultures (West, Central, and North). They are also known for their colonial heritage and religious pluralism. They offer an ideal platform to study the continent’s society, cultures, politics, and history. Drawing from multidisciplinary sources, this course will focus on the myths about Africa and will address how colonial and postcolonial conditions have constructed them. With on-site classes, students will challenge those myths, and learn the reality behind them.

Prerequisite: As announced.
Courses for majors and non-majors in cross cultural topics, comparative literature, and French, German, Italian, Spanish, and Latin-American literature in translation. This course is repeatable once for a total of six credits.

MLAN 490. WI: Capstone Course in Modern Languages (3-3-0)
Prerequisite: ENGL 223 with a grade of C- or higher, and MLAN 310W. Corequisite: Declared major in French, German, or Spanish and junior or senior standing, or consent of the instructor.
Required of all French, German, and Spanish majors. The capstone experience in modern languages is a research-writing course in which students are expected to demonstrate their ability to read and interpret primary sources, analyze and synthesize secondary sources, and write a well argued research paper in support of an original thesis. The objectives and format of the capstone course are consistent, but the specific research topic for each class will be determined by the instructor. Students will take the major exit exam as part of this course. This course partially satisfies the writing intensive requirement.

Prerequisite: As announced.
Topics vary, determined by the special interests and needs of students and the expertise of faculty.

SPAN 370. CNU Seminar Abroad (3-3-0)
Prerequisite: SPAN 202, or its equivalent, or consent of instructor.
This course is structured around a cultural theme and taught on-site in a country where the instructor has academic expertise. Activities encompass lectures, guided tours of sites, attendance at performances, or other cultural events. As in any three credit course, assignments may include readings, presentations, tests, journals, essays or a research project. Scheduled for two weeks in May or at another convenient time. In addition to tuition, charges for travel, accommodations, and group activities will be published well in advance. Departmental application and appropriate University paperwork required. Serves as an elective for the Spanish minor or major.

SPAN 395. Special Topics (3-3-0)
Prerequisite: As announced.
Topics vary, determined by the special interests and needs of students and the expertise of faculty.

SPAN 471. Hispanic Visual Culture and the Arts (3-3-0) AICE [formerly SPAN 361, equivalent]
Prerequisite: SPAN 301 or 303W and SPAN 302 or 308 with a grade of C- or higher, or permission of the department.
As a course that fulfills the seminar requirement of the Spanish major, SPAN 471 is devoted to the relationship between visual artistic expressions (such as film, painting, sculpture, architecture, performance, photography, and similar topics) and social, cultural, historical, economic and political realities in the Hispanic world. Close “readings” of primary sources, critical readings and class discussions will culminate in an original research paper. Taught in Spanish.

SPAN 472. Hispanic Popular Culture (3-3-0) AIWT [formerly SPAN 362, equivalent]
Prerequisite: SPAN 301 or 303W and SPAN 302 or 308 with a grade of C- or higher, or permission of the Department.
As a course that fulfills the seminar requirement of the Spanish major, SPAN 472 is devoted to the relationship between popular culture and the social, cultural, historical, economic, and political situations in the Spanish-speaking world. The course offers an in-depth focus on popular culture and recent developments in Latin America, Spain, and the Hispanic U.S. (youth, unemployment, immigration, fashion, music/dance, slang, cuisine, tourism mass-media/film, cultural movements), combined with popular literature, film and newspaper articles. Close readings of primary sources, critical readings and class discussions will culminate in an original research paper. Taught in Spanish.

SPAN 473. Hispanic Literature and Social Issues (3-3-0) [formerly SPAN 363, equivalent]
Prerequisite: SPAN 301 or 303W and SPAN 302 or 308 with a grade of C- or higher, or permission of the Department.
As a course that fulfills the seminar requirement of the Spanish major, SPAN 473 emphasizes students’ oral, written, and analytical skills, providing sustained dialogue on issues (social, cultural, historic, economic and/or political situations) and works (novels, short stories, essays, poetry, and other genres). Discussion of social issues as expressed through literature may include analysis of political struggles, urban environments, race/ethnicity, gender/sexuality, and national or regional borders. Supplementary critical readings inflect class discussion and culminate in a final research paper. Taught in Spanish.

SPAN 490. Practicum (3-3-0)
Prerequisite: SPAN 202 or its equivalent, modern language major, consent of the instructor, and departmental approval.
This course is designed to allow foreign language majors to participate in an internship or other practicum experience. Such experiences might include teaching foreign language in elementary schools, doing field work within one of the foreign communities in the area, working with an area company with foreign connections, or serving as an assistant in MCLL courses on campus. The nature of the practicum, specific assignments, and evaluation procedures are to be established with the supervising instructor, who must be a full-time faculty member in MCLL. The parameters for each individual practicum must be approved by the department.

SPAN 495. Special Topics (3-3-0)
Prerequisite: As announced.
Topics vary, determined by the special interests and needs of students and the expertise of faculty.
