CNU Summer Conference Housing Guidelines

Summer guests in the residence halls must act responsibly, honorably, and respectfully toward others and the community. Living in campus housing is a privilege, and residents are accountable for their actions. Behavior that negatively impacts the community or violates university policies may result in removal from housing.

Residents are expected to address issues by:

- Confronting and resolving the situation themselves
- Removing themselves from the situation
- Involving staff
- Taking no action

Failure to respond appropriately to policy violations shows disrespect for the community and university standards. Behavior that threatens the health or safety of others will be reviewed with the Conference Organizer, and appropriate action will be taken.

Examples of prohibited behavior include:

- Threats to health or safety
- Vandalism or destruction of property
- Verbal or physical threats or intimidation
- Fighting or physical assault
- Possession or use of illegal drugs
- Possession of weapons
- Hosting or attending parties with common sources of alcohol
- Self-destructive behaviors, including suicide attempts or threats

Warwick River Hall

Warwick River Hall opened in August 2012. The hall accommodates 447 primarily second-year residents in four, five, and six person suites. Residents share two community kitchens located in the atrium area on each floor.

- All rooms are equipped with fire alarms and necessary emergency procedures are posted in the buildings.
- Each individual bedroom is equipped with a mini fridge and microwave.
- CNU Wi-Fi is available in the Residence Hall.
- The beds are Extra Long Twin Sized.

Advertising and Posting:

- Residents may use bulletin boards in approved areas (hallways and common areas) for posting.
- Improperly posted materials will be removed.
- Taping items to walls, windows, or doors is prohibited, and damages will be charged.
- Door-to-door solicitation and use of rooms as businesses are not allowed.
- Profanity or offensive content in public view must be removed upon request.

Alcohol:

- Alcohol consumption or possession is prohibited in university housing, regardless of age.
- Empty alcohol containers and beer funnels are also prohibited. They may be considered evidence of prior alcohol consumption in the residence halls and may result in disciplinary action.
- Hosts of guests with alcohol risk disciplinary measures, and offending guests may be banned from campus.

Sound and Noise:

Residence halls support the University's academic mission by maintaining acceptable noise levels for studying, sleeping, and socializing. Residents must prioritize neighbors' comfort and show respect at all times.

- The volume of speakers, instruments, and sound devices should be maintained at a reasonable level and not disturb others.
- Amplifiers are not allowed in windows or common areas.
- Courtesy hours are always in effect, and noise should be reduced immediately when requested.
- Quiet hours: 9 p.m.–9 a.m. (Sun–Thu) and midnight–9 a.m. (Fri–Sat).
- Residents should keep their doors closed when playing music or creating noise that could disturb others.
- Noise should not be heard outside rooms during quiet hours.

Housekeeping:

- Residents must clean their rooms/apartments and suite/private bathrooms.
- Cleaning supplies and vacuums are available at front desks. Residents are encouraged to use these supplies carefully and to return them promptly.
- The use of vacuum cleaners during quiet hours is prohibited.
- Hallways, stairwells, and lounges are cleaned by staff, but resident cooperation in keeping these areas clean is expected and appreciated.
- Personal trash must be disposed of in designated areas, not common spaces. All personal trash must be tied up in trash bags and deposited in the trash rooms or taken directly to a dumpster.

Conduct:

- Behavior infringing on others' rights or safety is prohibited, including disorderly conduct, noise, damage to property, harassment, lewd or indecent behavior, hosting unwanted guests in the room, and other behavior that may negatively impact individuals or the community.

Cooking:

- Cooking is a leading cause of residential fires and is a major concern in university housing. Not only is it dangerous, but it can lead to great inconvenience and frustration when fire alarms are set off accidentally from cooking food. Never leave cooking food unattended.

Room Damages:

- Residents are responsible for any damages to their room or shared spaces.
- For shared room items, repair costs are shared unless full responsibility is claimed in writing.
- Intentional damage or vandalism may lead to removal from housing. Accidental damage should be reported immediately to front desk staff.

Decorations

Residents interested in decorating their rooms must adhere to the following guidelines:

- Fire safety equipment must remain intact, uncovered, and accessible.
- Tapestries, posters and other large wall coverings may not be hung across the ceiling.
- Decorations cannot obstruct exits.
- Decorative/holiday lights must be UL approved. They may not be left on unattended. They may not be strung through doorways or windows.
- Live garland, wreaths, or trees are prohibited.
- Use removable adhesives such as Scotch Tape or Magic Mounts; screws/nails are not allowed, and residents may be billed for any damage decorations leave behind.
- Rooms cannot be painted, and writing on walls is forbidden.
- Obscene or patently offensive material may not be displayed in windows or on doors facing public areas. When sharing space, roommates should be respectful and considerate of each other's feelings about posted material.

Illegal Drugs

- State law prohibits the possession and/or use of illegal drugs.
- Violation of the drug policy may result in immediate removal from the residence hall.
- Possession or use of prescription drugs by anyone other than for whom they were prescribed is against the law. Possession of used or unused drug paraphernalia (including Shisha pipes or hookahs) is also prohibited.

Smoking

- Smoking is prohibited in and near residence halls. Hookahs and fog machines are not allowed.
- Smoking is prohibited in all CNU residential facilities.
- Please respect the smoke-free lifestyle of others by avoiding smoking within 20 feet of building entrances or windows and refraining from releasing tobacco smoke in the path of the residence halls.
- Shisha pipes, hookahs, and fog machines are not allowed in university housing.
- Compliance with these guidelines is expected as part of community courtesy.

Obscene and Indecent Behavior

- Behavior or activities determined as obscene or indecent are prohibited. This includes, but is not limited to: public nudity, stripping, mooning, flashing and streaking.

Pets

- Fish in tanks under 10 gallons are allowed. All other pets or stray animals are prohibited from entering rooms or apartments for any period of time.
- Working service dogs are permitted.
- Violations may result in a $100 fine plus damage or cleaning fees up to an additional $100 fee.
- Emotional support animals are permitted in all halls and require prior approval through the Scheduling, Events, and Conferences Office submit documentation to sched@cnu.edu as part of the accommodations process.

Sports in Halls

- Playing physical sports in the residence halls is prohibited. This includes, but is not limited to: riding skateboards or bicycles; in-line skating; bowling; throwing Frisbees, balls or other objects; participating in shaving cream, water, food (or other substance) fights; discharging water guns or engaging in any other activity that might disturb or endanger the safety of others or damage university property.
- Throwing, dropping or shooting any object or projectile at, into or from within the residence halls is strictly prohibited.
- Toy guns or other toy weapons, including NERF, dart, water guns, etc. are also prohibited and may be confiscated.

Guests

Residents must understand that having guests in the residence halls is a privilege, not a right. Guests must be properly signed in at the front desk (where applicable) and must be escorted by a host resident. Hosts are responsible for the behavior of their guest(s) at all times. Hosts may sign in up to two guests at a time. Family members must also be signed in, but are not limited to two. Guests of legal driving age are expected to have and leave picture ID, such as a license or school ID, at the front desk. Underage visiting relatives without ID may be signed in with the host leaving his or her ID at the desk. Other guests without ID may be denied entry. Host ID may also be held in lieu of holding a guest's Military ID if no other guest ID is available.

A resident's right to privacy and sense of security in his/her room supersedes a roommate's privilege to have guests. Therefore, regardless of gender or time of day, residents must have the consent of their roommate(s) and apartment mates in order to have guests anywhere in the room or apartment. It is the roommates' responsibility to discuss guest policy expectations within their room or apartment and to hold each other accountable.

Conduct that infringes upon the rights of others including (1) failure to respect a roommate's right not to have unwanted guests present in the room/apartment, or (2) failure to respond to requests for guests to leave at any time, may result in disciplinary action. Even with roommate consent, residents in all areas may not host overnight guests for more than two nights in any consecutive seven-day. Overnight guests are minimally defined as guests visiting four or more hours between midnight and 8 a.m.

Only residents assigned to a particular room or apartment may live there. Anyone else, including family members or significant others, is considered a guest and subject to guest visitation policies. Visitors may not sign in under different hosts in order to stay overnight more frequently than two nights in a seven-day period.

Unauthorized Entry/Exit

- Residents and visitors must only main lobby doors; emergency exits are for emergencies only, and unauthorized use of emergency exits may result in disciplinary action and may include a financial penalty to include up to a $100 fine.
- No doors should ever be left or propped open.
- Restricted areas to residents and guests include but are not limited to mechanical rooms, storage or housekeeping closets, roofs, and window ledges.
- Scaling the sides of the residence halls or other university buildings is dangerous and also prohibited.

Community Spaces

Kitchens:

- Residents are responsible for keeping the community kitchens clean. Dishes are not to be left in the sink to be washed, dried, or put away. Counters should be washed off after each use. Food should be put away or disposed of properly.
- Guests may secure one cabinet in a community kitchen with a padlock to secure kitchen items. Cleaning supplies can be found under the sink in the community kitchens.

Laundry:

- Washers and dryers accept coins and are located in each of the residence halls.
- Residents are encouraged to remove their clothing from the machines promptly and to be respectful of other people's laundry. Laundry should not be left unattended for long periods of time.
- Problems with laundry machines should be reported to the front desk or point of contact posted in the laundry room.
- The University is not responsible for lost, stolen or damaged clothing. Money lost in vending machines and laundry machines can be refunded through the Student Union Information Desk located in the David Student Union (757) 594-7000 or 7100).

Lounges/Computer Labs:

- Residence hall lounges and computer labs are intended for use by building residents and guests only.
- Lounge spaces may be reserved for limited use. Reservations can be made by contacting Sched@cnu.edu. Please note in your email which group you are with and what is the intended use for the space.

Maintenance

For room maintenance, contact the Front Desk or email sched@cnu.edu. Repairs will be made as soon as possible. If unresolved within three working days, call (757) 594-7561.

Emergency maintenance personnel are on call after hours and on weekends for emergency maintenance issues that cannot wait until normal working hours. Contact the front desk in your area if you experience any of the following emergencies:

- Sparking or smoking outlets/fixtures
- No lighting in stairwells or bathrooms
- Lack of water or hot water
- Clogged toilet
- Leaking sprinkler head
- Issues locking/unlocking room doors
- Broken or shattered glass
- Major leaks or flooding
- Frozen and flooding A/C unit
- Buzzing smoke detector

Submitting a work request allows university personnel to enter your room to complete repairs.

Pest Control/Extermination

Bug problems should be reported to the Front Desk. To reduce problems, residents are reminded to keep areas clean and not leave food or dirty dishes lying around. Trash should be bagged, tied up and taken to designated trash rooms or dumpsters.

Items Left in Guest Rooms

CNU is not responsible for items left behind. Personal property left in a resident's room after they have vacated their assignment or at the end of a housing period may be discarded.

Windows and Screens

- Do not remove or cut window screens. Violations may result in fines.
- Do not sit in or lean out of windows or pass people or objects through windows at any time. Climbing through windows may result in a financial penalty to include up to a $100 fine.
- Requests to secure loose screens should be submitted to the front desk.
- For security reasons, if a screen is missing or damaged, maintenance staff may enter a guests room without notice to repair or replace the screen.

Door and Elevator Policies

Doors: Exterior, stairwell, and fire doors must not be propped open or left unsecured for safety and security reasons. Violations may result in disciplinary action.

Elevators: Do not block or hold elevator doors manually to prevent damage. Report malfunctions to the front desk immediately. Maintaining of cleanliness by residents and guests is expected. The bell and the phone in the elevator are designed to alert staff and University Police should an individual become entrapped. They should not be used in jest or for pranks.

Furniture

Residents may arrange the furniture in their personal space to create a comfortable living environment. Additional furniture is permitted removing university furnishings from their housing assignment is prohibited. All university furnishings must remain in their assigned location. This requirement also prohibits residents from swapping university-provided furnishing with other residents.

Lobby furniture must remain in the lobby space for community use. Guests are not permitted to remove lobby furniture and bring it into their personal space at any time.

Prohibited Items in Residence Halls

In order to help ensure the safety of all residents and protect personal and university property, the University reserves the right to impose reasonable requirements with regard to the type and use of appliances, equipment and other items brought into the residence halls. Some examples of items not permitted in the residence halls are listed here. This list is not all- inclusive.

Appliances

- Microwave ovens and refrigerators (other than those provided by the University) are prohibited.
- Cooking in the residence halls is dangerous. Residence Hall rooms were not designed for that purpose. Therefore, use of cooking appliances is limited to the university-provided microwave or a UL-approved coffee pot with automatic shutoff. All other cooking appliances are prohibited in guest rooms, including but not limited to: toasters, toaster ovens, George Foreman grills, electric frying pans, deep fryers, hot plates, rice cookers and other appliances with heating elements. (Irons and curling irons with automatic shutoff are permitted.)

Candles and Open Flames

Due to fire safety concerns, all candles (burned or not) are prohibited in the residence halls. Open flames, burning incense, incense and candle warmers, and cigarette smoking are also prohibited. Residents may grill outside in designated grilling areas.

Fans

Installing ceiling fans, attaching lights or otherwise altering the electrical system is prohibited.

Extension Cords

Extension cords and outlet splitters or multipliers are prohibited in the residence halls. Residents may use power strips with resettable circuit breakers to extend the reach of electrical outlets.

Fireworks

Sparklers, fireworks and other explosives are prohibited in the residence halls.

Flammable Liquids, Fuel-Powered Equipment and Bottled Gas

Flammable liquids such as lighter fluid, gasoline, turpentine, paint thinners/ solvents, etc. may not be stored in the residence halls. Storage of generators, mopeds, motorcycles and other fuel-powered equipment is prohibited. Bottled gas is also prohibited in the residence halls.

Halogen Lamps and Other Lights

Torchiere-style halogen lamps and lamps with a pass through plug are prohibited. Downward-facing halogen desk lamps are permitted. Exceeding recommended light bulb size/wattage in any lamp is a fire hazard and prohibited in the residence halls.

Heaters

Portable space heaters are prohibited unless approved or furnished by the University.

Plug-in Air Fresheners

Plug-in air fresheners with a “pass-through plug” as part of their design are considered unsafe for residence hall use by the Virginia fire marshal and are prohibited. Other plug-in air fresheners are acceptable.

Pressurized Items

Pressurized items (e.g., scuba equipment, CO₂, helium and propane canisters, etc.) may not be kept in the residence halls.

Routers

Personal computer routers are prohibited in the residence halls, unless issued by the University.

Firearms

Weapons and firearms (including stun guns, paintball guns, BB guns, Air Soft guns, dart guns, etc.) and live ammunition are prohibited. Pepper spray is permitted.

Fire Safety and Policies

Violations of fire safety policies are taken very seriously, as fire is a significant threat to life and property in a residence hall community. Failure to observe fire safety rules and regulations or follow emergency procedures during a drill or actual emergency may result in disciplinary action, including possible removal from housing.

University-provided fire extinguishers in units or apartments with kitchens or kitchenettes must be kept in the cooking areas, not in bedrooms. They are best left mounted in the kitchen (when applicable), on a countertop or otherwise in plain sight and easily accessible. Do not place extinguishers on or over the stove where a fire might prevent reaching the extinguisher.

Anyone involved in initiating a false alarm or inappropriately discharging a fire extinguisher will face disciplinary action.⁸

Fire Alarms and Evacuation

When the fire alarm sounds, everyone must evacuate the building immediately, every time. All fire alarms must be treated like a fire situation. Failure to evacuate the building, or evacuate in a timely manner, may result in disciplinary action and may include a financial penalty to include up to a $100 fine.

Fire Drills

Fire drills are conducted sporadically to ensure proper functioning of the building fire alarm system. Occupants must evacuate for a drill just as they would for a real fire.

Fire Safety Equipment

Tampering with smoke/heat detectors, fire alarms, fire extinguishers, emergency lights, sprinklers, valves or any other fire safety equipment is expressly prohibited. Hanging things from sprinkler heads could cause flooding and significant damage to personal and university property.

Fire Safety Inspections

The fire marshal may conduct announced or unannounced inspections of residential rooms during the course of the year. Violations discovered by the fire marshal are subject to a fine.

What to Do in Case of a Fire

Remain calm in a fire.

Know alternate exits in advance in case the primary route is obstructed.

Never use the elevators during an alarm.

Touch the door before opening. If the door is hot, do not exit.

Call the front desk or University Police at (757) 594-7777 if you need assistance evacuating the building.

If you are trapped in your room, stuff the door cracks and vents with damp towels. Hang a sheet from the window to alert rescue personnel. Stay low to the floor and breathe through a damp cloth.

If trapped in an elevator or stairwell, use the available telephone to call for help.

When evacuating, bang on other room doors to alert residents. Close doors behind you to contain the spread of smoke and fire. Gather with others and stay a safe distance from the building. Even if the alarm is silenced, do not re-enter the building until a staff member tells you it is safe to do so.

Fire Safety Information and Procedures

University Fire Alarm System: The University fire alarm system consists of a horn signal that can be activated from any pull box or from the alarm control panel. Everyone will evacuate the building upon activation of the fire alarm and University Police shall be notified of the situation. The University fire alarm system may be activated in case of fire, fire drills, bomb threats, hazardous gas leaks or danger of explosion.

Fire Safety Information and Procedures

University Fire Alarm System

The University fire alarm system consists of a horn signal that can be activated from any pull box or from the alarm control panel. Everyone will evacuate the building upon activation of the fire alarm and University Police shall be notified of the situation. The University fire alarm system may be activated in case of fire, fire drills, bomb threats, hazardous gas leaks or danger of explosion.

In the event of fire, the following actions should be taken:

- (1) Activate the University fire alarm system in the building in which the fire is suspected by pulling the nearest fire alarm box.
- (2) Notify University Police. Tell the communication officer the type of emergency and exact location where the fire department should respond. University Police will contact the fire department and assist with the exact location of the incident.
- (3) Unless threatened by fire, smoke, or heat, the individual should use available fire extinguishing equipment and remain on the scene until assistance arrives. When in doubt, evacuate the building.
- (4) Evacuate the building, closing office or classroom doors when exiting respective areas and taking all personal belongings.
- (5) Follow orders issued by delegated authority. All persons who have evacuated buildings will move to an open grassy area away from the building and to stay clear of roads and fire hydrants.
- (6) Throughout the duration of a fire alarm all building patrons should remain calm, move promptly to a point well outside the building and follow directions provided by members of the administration and emergency personnel. Patrons having evacuated the building should not depart the campus until an announcement has been made to that effect, nor should they return to the building until appropriate notice has been announced by University Police or other appropriate administrator.

Fire Safety Tips

- (1) Remain calm in a fire. (2) Know alternate exits in advance in case the primary route is obstructed. (3) Never use the elevators during an alarm. (4) Touch the door before opening. If the door is hot, do not exit. (5) Call the front desk or University Police at (757) 594-7777 if you need assistance evacuating the building. (6) When evacuating, bang on other room doors to alert residents. (7) Close doors behind you to contain the spread of smoke and fire. (8) Gather with others and stay a safe distance from the building. (9) Even if the alarm is silenced, do not re-enter the building until a staff member tells you it is safe. (10) If you are trapped in your room, stuff the door cracks and vents with damp towels. Hang a sheet from the window to alert rescue personnel. Stay low to the floor and breathe through a damp cloth. If trapped in an elevator or stairwell, use the available telephone to call for help.

Bomb Threat

If a bomb threat is received by telephone, note the precise time of the call and the line on which the call was received. If you have “caller ID” on the phone, write down the telephone number.

Try to obtain the following information from the caller:

1. Where has the bomb been placed?
2. What time is the bomb set to explode? What type of bomb has been placed?
3. How was the bomb delivered to the University?
4. Try to note the characteristics of the caller, including the caller’s age, sex, sound of voice and any background noises that you can determine. This information may be helpful in the identification of the caller. Contact University Police at 594-7777 (from a campus telephone, 4-7777), so that an investigation may commence. The responding police officer will make a determination to evacuate the building or to take other action.
5. If a bomb threat is received by letter or note, do not handle the document, its envelope or enclosures. These items may contain fingerprints that can be used as a means of identifying the person responsible for the act. Contact the University Police as above.

Hostile Intruders

This procedure cannot address every situation but aims to reduce injuries or fatalities when implemented quickly. Time is crucial. If you encounter individuals with the following behaviors, promptly notify the police, student affairs, or other University officials.

- Threatens harm or talks about killing other students, faculty, staff, or guests
- Constantly starts or participates in fights.
- Loses temper and self-control easily.
- Swears or uses vulgar language most of the time.
- Possesses or draws artwork that depicts graphic images of death or violence.
- Assaults others constantly to include immediate family members.
- Possesses weapons (firearms or knives) or has a preoccupation with them.
- Becomes frustrated easily and converts frustration into uncontrollable physical violence.

In the event that a hostile person is actively causing deadly harm or imminent threat of deadly harm within a building, realize that there are a variety of options to consider to keep yourself and others safe:

- Lock yourself in the room you are in at the time of the threatening activity.
- If communication is available, call University Police. Do not stay in an open hall. Do not sound a fire alarm. A fire alarm would signal the occupants in the rooms to evacuate the building and thus place them in potential harm at they attempted to exit.
- Barricade yourself in the room with furniture or anything you can push against the door.
- Lock the window and close blinds and curtains.
- Stay away from windows.
- Turn all lights and audio equipment off.
- Try to stay calm and be as quiet as possible.

If for some reason you are caught in an open area such as a hallway or lounge type area, you must decide what action to take. You may have to make decisions regarding your safety and the safety of others. Please consider the following:

- If you try to hide, make sure that it is a well hidden space or you may be found as the intruder moves through the building looking for victims.
- If you believe it's safe to escape the building by running, take action. Avoid running in a straight line, and use any available objects to shield yourself from the hostile person while inside. Once outside, use trees, vehicles, or other barriers to stay out of view as you run. After reaching a safe distance, alert authorities and warn others of the danger.
- If the hostile intruder is inflicting death or serious physical injury on others and you are unable to run or hide, you may choose to play dead if there are other victims around you.
- The last option you have if caught in an open area in the residence hall or classroom may be to fight back. This is dangerous, but depending on your situation, this could be your only choice.
- If you are captured by the hostile intruder and choose not to resist, comply with their instructions and avoid making eye contact.
- Once police arrive, obey all commands. This may involve your being handcuffed or made to put your hands in the air. This is done for safety reasons and once circumstances are evaluated by the police, they will give you further directions to follow.

Police officers responding to a hostile intruder are trained to proceed immediately to the area in which shots were last heard. It is their purpose to stop the shooting as quickly as possible. The police officers may be armed with rifles, shotguns and handguns and may be using pepper spray or tear gas to control the situation. Regardless of how they appear, remain calm and follow any instructions that the police officers may give to you. Put down any bags or packages that you may be carrying and keep your hands visible at all times. If you know where the shooter is, tell the police officers. The entry team will not stop to render aid to injured people; it is their job to eliminate the threat to the community. Rescue teams, composed of police officers and medical personnel, will be deployed to treat and remove injured persons once the threat has been contained.

Power Failure

It is possible for the University to experience power outages, either a full outage or a partial outage. Both types of outages can be inconvenient but can also cause damage to computers and electric motors in equipment. Both outage types must be reported. In case of a power failure, battery emergency lights will activate. Battery emergency lights are not located in all University buildings and will operate for a limited amount of time. In addition, the fire alarms will not operate. Under all circumstances, day or night, when it has been determined that the power will be off for an extended period of time, all buildings affected will be notified and evacuated.

- If the power outage occurs between the normal business hours of 7:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, contact Plant Operations at 594-7035. All computer systems should be turned off so a power surge will not damage the computer when the power is resumed.
- If the outage occurs after normal working hours, or during the weekend, University Police should be notified. University Police will notify on-call Plant Operations personnel.

Other Emergencies

In the event of an emergency, such as failure of heat, air conditioning, elevator, water leak, and other natural or man-made situations, please make the following notifications:

- If the emergency occurs between the normal business hours of 7:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, contact Plant Operations at 594-7035.
- If the outage occurs after normal working hours, or during the weekend, University Police should be notified. University Police will notify on-call Plant Operations personnel.
